

Reading this book to completion and following this routine makes you unstoppable

SALES ATHLETE DAILY SCORECARD

Category	What to Do	Scoring Rules	Max Points	Your Score
A. Discipline Execution	Follow your daily routine strictly	4:00am wake (5), Body workout & Cold shower (5) morning study (5), Dressing up well & leaving for work before 7:30 (5)	20	-----
B.Sales Activity	Talk to customers/ leads	10 convos = 10 pts, 20 = 20 pts, 30+ = 30 pts	30	-----
C.Closings (Money)	Actual sales made	1 sale = 10 pts, 2+ sales = 20 pts, 0 = 0 pts	20	-----
D.Skill Improvement	Become better at selling	Script improved (5), objection skill (5), communication practice (5)	15	-----
E. Evening Routine	Day ending	Getting home by 6:00 and family bonding (5), Evening study (5), Sleeping at 9:30 (5)	15	-----

HAMIS: THE ROAD FEW CHOOSE

PEOPLE FIRST. RELATIONSHIPS ALWAYS.

HAMIS: THE POWER OF PEOPLE

NO OPPORTUNITY WASTED

THE NETWORK HE BUILT

THE RESULT

THEY STILL GRIND...

YEARS LATER...

HAMIS CHOSE SALES. SALES CHOSE HIM. AND LIFE REWARDED HIM.

INTRO

Amongst all the skills that can liberate you from poverty, selling is chosen to lead.

Not talent. Not luck. Not connections

Selling

Because no matter who you are or where you start, your ability to persuade, influence, and move people to act will determine how far you go and how fast you get there

So, before you read another word, pause. Think about your life right now.

The income you earn. The opportunities you have. The doors that remain closed. Now answer this honestly, how much of it is limited by your ability to sell? Write the answer down.

Because from this moment forward, excuses are no longer useful only results are.

This is not a book you read casually. This is a book you use if you're looking for comfort, this is not it. If you are looking for transformation, keep going.

Here's the truth most people avoid; everyday you are selling.

You are selling your ideas

You are selling you values

You are selling you self

And everyday people are buying or walking away. True difference is never accidental.

Final thought

You don't need permission to rise.

You need positioning.

Own the buyer.....and the rest of the system will start aligning itself around you.

ASKING FOR HELP AND TEAMWORK

Before we dive into the main ideas in this book, let us first discuss the importance of asking for help.

Many people avoid asking for help because they fear looking weak, inexperienced, or incapable. Asking for help is one of the smartest things you can do. It is not weakness—it is leverage.

Imagine trying to learn sales through years of trial and error when a professional salesperson has already spent decades making mistakes, learning lessons, and discovering what works. By learning from that person, you can gain years of knowledge in a much shorter time. What took them years to learn may take you only days or weeks to understand.

Successful people understand the power of leverage. They borrow knowledge, experience, and wisdom from those who have already walked the path they wish to follow. They ask questions, seek guidance, and remain teachable. This allows them to move faster and avoid costly mistakes.

The same principle applies to teamwork. No great achievement is built by one person alone. Every successful business depends on people working together toward a common goal. When individuals combine their strengths, they become far more effective than they would be on their own.

As you read this book, do not feel pressured to know everything. Be willing to ask questions. Be willing to seek advice. Be willing to learn from those who have already achieved the results you desire. The smartest people are not those who know everything; they are those who know where to learn.

Remember, asking for help does not make you smaller. It makes you stronger because it allows you to stand on the shoulders of those who came before you.

Key Lesson: Asking for help is not weakness. It is leverage. Learning from the right people can save years of struggle and accelerate your journey to success.

CHAPTER 1

OWN THE BUYER

Most people own the product. Hamis owns the buyer.

OTHERS OWN THE PRODUCT...  THEY FOCUS ON MAKING THE PRODUCT PERFECT.	HAMIS OWNS THE BUYER  HE UNDERSTANDS PEOPLE. HE GAINS THEIR TRUST.
HAMIS BUILDS RELATIONSHIPS. OTHERS BUILD PRODUCTS.
			 They are busy perfecting their products
HAMIS CONNECTS BUYERS TO SOLUTIONS.
 He matches the need with the product	 He removes worry and saves time.	 He delivers value. He builds loyalty	 Happy buyers repeat business
WITHOUT PEOPLE BUYING, PRODUCTS JUST SIT.
 No buyers No movement	 No movement No money.	 No money No growth	PRODUCTION MINUS SELLING = POVERTY

HAMIS FUELS THE ECONOMY

HAMIS SHAPES THE ECONOMIC SYSTEM

HE FACILITATES THE USAGE OF RESOURCES

OTHERS WORK HARD. HAMIS WORKS SMART

HAMIS - THE MOST VALUABLE PERSON IN THE SYSTEM.

HAMIS OWNS THE BUYER. HAMIS SHAPES THE FUTURE.

The skill that can change your income. Influence and future.

Most people spend years looking for;

- The perfect job
- The perfect business
- The perfect product
- The perfect connection
- or the perfect opportunity.

Yet many struggle financially.

Why?

Because opportunities rarely reward people who cannot persuade, communicate, influence and sell.

The truth is this:

You can have a degree and remain broke.

You can have talents and still be ignored.

You can own a good product and still fail.

But a person who understands selling can create income almost anywhere.

This book is about that skill.

Not manipulation

Not tricks

Not empty motivation

But the real ability to:

- attract trust
- influence decisions
- communicate value

-create demand

-and make buyers come willingly and repeatedly.

You don't need to quit your job first.

You don't even need to own a product immediately.

You only need large sums of commissions on existing quality products

Because once you sharpen the skill explained in this book, you become valuable to business, clients, employers, markets and people.

A strong selling skill can help you;

- Create opportunities from conversations
- Earn through commissions
- Build businesses faster
- Attract customers daily
- Negotiate better
- Lead people confidently

And increase your income without waiting for permission

The world rewards people who can move people.

That is why some individuals walk into a room and opportunities follow them.

They know how to connect

They know how to communicate

They know how to sell ideas, value, solutions and vision.

This book was written to help you develop that ability.

Because when you master selling...

You stop depending only on jobs.

You stop waiting for luck

You stop chasing buyers

And buyers begin coming to you daily.

It is not manipulation

It is disciplined ability to;

- communicate

- connect

- Influence

- Solve problems

- and create movement

You have learnt the language of influence

You have learnt how conversations become opportunities

You have learnt that effort alone does not pay, results do

Now the remaining stop is action.

Practice daily

Observe people carefully

Learn to listen

Learn to communicate cleanly

Learn to follow up

Learn to negotiate calmly

Learn to close confidently

Because the more valuable you become in communication and influence, the less you depend on luck. And eventually, instead of chasing opportunities endlessly... you become the person opportunities start chasing.

Own attention

Own trust

Own communication

And eventually

You will own the buyer

The invisible line between average and power.

There are two types of people in every industry; Those who produce. Those who control. The buyers

Most people spend their live trying to become better producers; better mechanics. better farmers. better manufactures. but real power doesn't sit with the producer, it sits with the person who brings the buyer.

The truth most people miss

A land broker owns no land. Yet he drives the care the farmers dreams about. Why? Because he owns the buyer. He knows; who is ready to purchase, what they can afford, when they are serious. So, when a seller appears, he doesn't beg for opportunity, he controls it. He connects two and gets paid. Again, and again.

You are not small; you are positioned wrong. You've probably been told. Work hard. Get a stable job. Build slowly. But no one told you this, if you cannot control demand, you control income. This is why to performers in any industry dominate earnings. As emphasizes, the highest performing companies are built on the strength of their sales people and the best sales person earn the most. Not the smartest. Not the most educated. The one closest to the buyer

Owning the buyer changes everything

When you own the buyer, producers respect you. Opportunities come to you. Income becomes scalable. You stop asking. Who will give me a job? And start asking who needs access to the people I know? That's a completely different level of thinking.

You don't need a product

This is where it becomes dangerous in a good way. You don't need a factory, Inventory. Capital heavy investments. You need Access, Relationship, Trust, that's it. If you can consistently bring buyers to a product or services you've created leverage. And leverage is where wealth lives.

The economy runs on people who can sell.

Every industry car, real estates, insurance, agriculture moves because someone connects a buyer to a solution. Without that connection, product sit, services stall, Business struggle. With that connection, money flows. You are not just participating in the economy; you are shaping it.

Picture this clearly

Imagine six months from now. You no longer hesitate to speak to strangers. People take your calls because you bring value. You have a network of buyers who trust your word. Producers seek you out because you can move their product. Your phone is no longer quiet. Your income is no longer fixed. Your confidence is no longer fragile. Now imagine a year from now, better car, better home, better schools for your children. Not because of luck, because you mastered one thing, Owning the buyer

Why this should make you restless.

If you're still living small, it's not because opportunity doesn't exist. It's because you haven't positioned yourself between demand and supply. The gap between people who want something and those who provide it is where money is made. Right now, others are standing in that gap. They are earning from conversations you are not having. From relationships you haven't built. From courage you haven't exercised yet.

Your Task: Step into control.

This is where you begin shifting from awareness to action. Task: Identify and calm your market.

1. Choose 3 industries around you. Examples; Real estate, car sales, Agriculture, furniture, construction.
2. For each industry, answer this; Who are the producers? Who are the buyers? Where do buyers gather or pass through?
3. Now the critical move; Identify how you can position yourself between them. Ask; Can I access buyers directly? Can I partner with people who already interact with them? Can I become the bridge?
4. Take one industry and act immediately. Speak to at least 2 producers. Start forming connections

You have finalized the chapter, now note the key takeaways

[illegible]

Glossary of sales terms.

Lead:

A person or business that might be interested in buying.

Prospect:

A lead that has been contracted and shows some interest.

Qualification:

Checking if the prospect has money, need, and authority to buy.

Cold calling:

Contracting someone who doesn't know you yet.

Warm lead:

Someone who already has some interest or connection to you.

Hot lead:

Someone ready to buy soon.

Pipeline:

All your deals at different stages.

Funnel:

The journey from many leads to a few buyers.

Conversions:

Turning a lead into a paying customer.

Close:

Getting the customer to say yes and complete the deal.

Closing ratio:

How many deals you close compared to how many you try.

Follow up:

Checking back with a prospect after first contact.

Objection:

A reason the customer gives for not buying.

Handling objections:

Answering concerns to move the deal forward.

Value proposition:

The main reason you offer is worth buying.

Pitch:

A short explanation of your offer.

Presentation:

A detailed explanation of your offer.

Negotiation:

Agreeing on terms that satisfy both sides.

Commission:

Money earned from a successful trade.

Referral:

A new lead sent to you by someone else.

Broker:

A middle person who connects buyer and seller.

Margin:

The difference between cost and selling price.

Upsell:

Selling a more expensive option.

Cross sell:

Selling an additional related product.

Scarcity:

Limited availability used to act quickly.

Trust:

Confidence the buyer has in you.

Rapport:

A good relationship with the customer.

Needs Analysis:

Understanding what the customer really wants.

Pain point:

A problem the customer wants solved.

Solution selling:

Selling by solving a problem

Consultative selling:

Acting like an advisor, not just a seller.

B2B (business to business)

Selling to companies.

Decision maker:

The person who can say yes to the deal.

Gatekeeper:

The person who controls access to the decision maker.

Touch point:

Any interaction with a prospect.

CRM (Customer Relationship Management):

A system to track leads and customers.

Retention:

Keeping customers coming back.

Lifetime value:

Total money a customer brings over time.

Churn:

Losing customers.

Territory:

The area or market you sell in.

Quota:

Your sales target.

Script:

Planned words used during selling.

Call To Action (CTA):

Telling the customer what to do next.

Demo:

Showing how the product works.

Trial close:

Testing if the customer is ready to buy.

Hard close:

Directly asking for the sale.

Soft close:

Gently guiding the customer to decide.

Walkaway:

Leaving a deal that is not worth it.

Integrity:

What people say about your work.

Consistency:

Showing up and selling every day.

DEDICATION

I was born into wealth. Not wealth of money. But wealth of a loving and caring environment of people.

I dedicate this book to my Jajja, Nabakooza Joyce, the Late Lumanyika Samuel, George William Kateregga and the Real Partners Uganda for Education, Mentoring and looking after me.

*Not forgetting the loving provisions of my mothers, Aida Nantege and Zulaika Nakisitu

Marvin Samuel Ssemanda

DEDICATION

This book is dedicated to every dreamer who refuses to accept poverty as a permanent condition.

I dedicate these pages to my mother: Mrs. Birungi Annet Kyeswa, my sister, Nabunnya Ronah Cabrine, mentors, partners and everyone who believed in me when the results were not yet visible.

May this book help you master the art of selling, create opportunities where none seem to exist, and build a future limited only by your ambition.

Ronet Francis Nabunnya.

DEDICATION

If you have no company to test in Uganda, test your sales ability with my company.

1. The Aalphar Torch Company dealing in metallic products, Doors, Windows, Gates, tank stands. You'll win yourself commission. Don't put your reading at a waste.

*For more information on this Company Contact 0706066321 / 0758133443 / 0775351876

For seminars or corrections on the book, contact;

Marvin Samuel Ssemanda 075813343

Ronet Nabunnya 0753553350